EAST AGAIN

With Mr George William Curtis coming to the front as the champion of Republican Reform in New York and to labor in his Harper's Weekly editorials to prevent a Republican victory because the State Convention refused to endorse Republican doctrine and to lay down the true policies that destroying the party the title page of the Journal manufactured by the pencil of Nast applies to the common sense and unanimous conviction of the Republicans with all the overwhelming force of that great artist's unparalleled powerful cartoon plainly depicts the tendency and result of that policy of nullification which consists of resistance to the old and arrogant control of the other. The picture is entitled "The Mills that Grind and the Limb Judge Together." The monster Democratic tiger is big gorged with his victims passes the outline of which allows partly in distinguished pauch visible to the Democratic Leopard. For the Republican Lamb Inquire Within.—Democratic Journal.

The great beast rolls its bloodthirsty eyes sideways with a satisfied look of the way which to tongue is thrust out and lapping the ponderous jaw. On the background to the left are the words "Unity Solid Thanksgiving" and the right the suggestive bill of fare "Spring Lamb Hanging."

Lack of writing could fail to tell the whole truth completely and strikingly as does this vivid caricature. Look to the Southern Democratic Republican Land has distinctly to look to the North and Old for the money and influence which the Democratic tiger is hopping its jaws after its first feasting for the Republicans they to fling him more victims. The Journal of March 29th announced the potency of Northern opinion and at the same time declared the final extinction of sectional issues. In the Congress of the United States the Democratic majority has shown itself unfit to be entrusted with the powers of the Government. Its leaders have declared that they will not accept the Republican verdict of November 1876 as the decision of the people. They have declared that they will not submit to the decision of the Electoral Commission. They have declared that they will not submit to the decision of the Supreme Court. They have declared that they will not submit to the decision of the House of Representatives. They have declared that they will not submit to the decision of the Senate. They have declared that they will not submit to the decision of the Boards of Common Council. They have declared that they will not submit to the decision of the Boards of Mayors. They have declared that they will not submit to the decision of the Boards of Governors. They have declared that they will not submit to the decision of the Boards of Vice Presidents. WASHINGTON

The English Mission the Pennsylvania Election and the Louisiana Senatorship

[illegible] WASHINGTON Oct 26 Washington is full of gossip to-day but little of it will be worth telegraphing The President has not yet definitely decided upon the English mission but it is believed that he will not appoint a Republican Senator will be taken from the Senate and no Democrat will be appointed to his place Governor Hartranft's majority in Pennsylvania will be about 30000 Governor Packer's majority in 1873 was 31000 Hartranft's vote is 30000 ahead of his ticket Packer ran 1000 ahead of his ticket Hartranft's majority will be about 30000 The Democrats will carry the State Senate by a majority of two and probably the House of Representatives by a majority of ten The returns from the State are very meagre and will not be complete for a week

The Louisiana Senatorship—The Investigation and its Scope

Mr Blaine [illegible] ready to file a copy of the report of the committee appointed by the Senate to investigate the Louisiana election cases The following resolution will be offered by Mr Blaine

[illegible] That the committee to whom was referred the credentials of John McEnery and William Pitt Kellogg claiming to be elected Senators from the State of Louisiana for the term beginning March 4 1877 be instructed to inquire into the election returns and other evidence relating to the election of said Senators and report the same to the Senate with such opinion as may be proper for the action of the Senate thereon and that said committee have power to send for persons and papers to administer oaths and to employ a clerk and messenger

Mr Kellogg's Statement

[illegible] Mr Kellogg's statement of his claims were read It consists of a long statement that he has the power to claim a seat on the floor of the Senate to which he was elected by the Legislature of Louisiana and that the committee on Privileges and Elections has no power to go behind the returns and decide who were entitled to seats The statement does not claim that the committee will after requisition send for the returns but that it will be the duty of the committee to send for the returns and decide who were entitled to seats

Mr Kellogg's statement is a long one and is full of quotations from the Constitution and laws of Louisiana and from decisions of the Senate and the courts of the United States

Mr Kellogg's statement will be followed by a statement of Mr Packard and Mr Nelson who will not only controvert the points and calls for information made by Mr Kellogg but will present a statement of the evidence which they claim will show that they were elected Governor and Lieutenant Governor of Louisiana at the election held on the 7th of November 1876 and that they are entitled to the seats now occupied by Messrs Kellogg and Antoine

Mr Packard's statement will be followed by a statement of Mr Spofford in his own behalf

TO-DAY

BY J. L. STODDARD

Just a Typical Day adorned.
Qu importe?

Just off meanders Life a sparkling rivulet
In which are flare timorous fears,
Bombshells of shine and little cares?
They hinder not the hurrying years
Aurora

Their fleeting hour will soon be gone.
Qu importe?

Such Sentiments will not be sung
By their keen contemporaries
Of those who Are secure
For the unwonted was simply sure
That Time's mercury and our future
Qu importe?

Love's arbor always cooled
Qu importe?

Is what we ignorance not to foretell
At last that hour of promise will arrive
Have thrown from the canary miss
Best of blisses
Qu importe?

There will set at Day adorned
Qu importe?

Not the eternal stars at Time no
Not Time's unalterable dreary night
And mound and cheerless as the grave—
Like mourners of past delight

EASTERN STAR GRANGE FAIR.

The display of fruit and vegetables was remarkably good considering the season. Owing to bad weather not as many visitors as doubtless would have been there otherwise yet the receipts were quite satisfactory and the net proceeds of the fair will be a handsome sum to add to the treasury of the Grange.
